

HISTORIC QUOTATION—Human vs Machines April 30

“Machines are not sophisticated. People are sophisticated. Machines are complex.”

— George Chesnut

George Chesnut

George Chesnut was a multilinguist, and, as a senior manager in the NSA organizations that dealt with the Soviet Union and Communist Europe during the early Cold War, he showed himself an astute intelligence analyst and an exacting wordsmith.